DEAR CITIZENS,

Your college of mayor and aldermen is pleased to present the brand-new edition of our communal bulletin. This updated format is designed to enhance your reading experience and make the content even more enjoyable to explore.

Inside, you will find the usual mix of important updates on political decisions, key moments from recent events, and – brand new – personal stories and interviews with people who live and work in Schuttrange. Through this more personal perspective, we aim to highlight the many ways in which individuals contribute to life in our community – whether on a communal, political, cultural, or social level.

As summer comes to an end, we are left with many wonderful memories. In the following pages, we look back on some of the highlights from June and July: sporting activities such as the “Nuit du Sport”, cultural festivities like the “Fête de la Musique”, and of course, the National Holiday celebration, which this year drew a record number of visitors to the “an der Dällt” campus. Our associations and committees played a major role in the success of these events, despite some unpredictable weather. Your continued commitment to our commune is what makes Schuttrange a place where we live, celebrate, and enjoy meaningful moments together – and for that, we thank you warmly.

As autumn approaches, a new chapter begins. We wish all students and educational staff a smooth and successful start of the school year. To those learning Luxembourgish – we hope you find joy in discovering our beautiful national language. And to all sports enthusiasts, may your energy and enthusiasm carry you through your activities!

COMMUNAL ALLIANCE OPPOSING NUCLEAR ENERGY

In response to France's decision to extend the operational life of the Cattenom nuclear power plant, 27 communes in Luxembourg have joined forces to revive the former local platform opposing nuclear energy. Schuttrange is among the communes, voicing concern over a renewed global push for nuclear power—driven in part by the geopolitical fallout from the war in Ukraine. According to the alliance, this trend risks slowing down the development of renewable energy sources. The alliance's position is clear: reject nuclear energy and commit fully to renewables in order to accelerate the energy transition.

The communal alliance is composed of the following communes (as of 1 August 2025):

Bettembourg, Bertrange, Biwer, Boulaide, Contern, Dudelange, Esch-sur-Alzette, Esch-sur-Sûre, Frisange, Kayl, Kehlen, Mertert, Mondercange, Niederaanven, Reckange-sur-Mess, Roeser, Rumelange, Sanem, Schieren, Schiffange, Schuttrange, Steinfort, Steinsel, Vianden, Walferdange, Weiler-la-Tour, and Wiltz.

“OP DER BISSEMT” SITE UNDER CONSTRUCTION

The new “Op der Bissem” facility, featuring a clubhouse and multi-purpose rooms, is steadily taking shape. In September 2025, the first modules were delivered and the wooden exterior structure was assembled. Since then, work has progressed with the installation of the roof. The college of mayor and aldermen is already looking forward to inaugurating this new space next year, hoping it will become a welcoming meeting place where club members and local residents can share many joyful moments together.

EXTENSION OF THE CYCLE 1 AND THE MAISON RELAIS

As our commune's population grows, the number of students in primary school is also increasing. To meet the needs of future generations, the "an der Däлт" school campus will undergo a major expansion. Construction of a new building for our youngest students in Cycle 1 (Précoce and Cycle 1.1 and 1.2) is set to begin in January 2026, with completion expected by the 2029/2030 school year. Following that, the existing Maison Relais building will be renovated to accommodate Cycle 1 children. This transformation will create a dedicated space specifically for the youngest students.

An investment focused on the future

Safety first

The extension project will be carried out in several phases, and the safety of the children and school staff will be ensured at all times.

To allow students to move freely and safely, the construction site will be set up outside the school premises. The construction area and access for construction vehicles will be clearly marked by fences around the school campus.

A modern and sustainable infrastructure

As part of this expansion, students in the early education classes and Cycle 1 will benefit from a modern and well-equipped school environment: in total, 13 new classrooms will be created, along with a psychomotricity room, a rhythmic room, a comfortable reading and relaxation area, as well as spaces for teaching staff, educators, and academic support. Furthermore, as part of the renovation of the Maison Relais, new functional spaces will be developed: Creativity, sciences, construction, role-playing, as well as various rooms for dining.

The project places a strong emphasis on modern, sustainable and environmentally friendly construction, using wood and clay-based finishes. At the same time, the principle of circular economy is integrated: the buildings are designed so that certain elements can be easily dismantled and reused in other projects. We place great importance on the well-being of the children: good air quality, effective acoustics and barrier-free architecture are key components of the project.

The estimated cost of the expansion is approximately €27,440,271.

FAIRTRADE BRUNCH

As part of Fairtrade Weeks, which took place from May 12 to 25, the communal staff enjoyed a delicious buffet on June 4, 2025, featuring Fairtrade products such as croissants, waffles, fresh fruit, tea, coffee, and juice.

This was followed by a short presentation on sustainable purchasing practices.

We are proud to be a certified Fairtrade commune and to actively support fair trade!

NEW WALKING PATH IMPROVES FOREST ACCESS

In Uebersyren, our forestry team has created a walking trail that runs alongside the Poultry Club's breeding facility and the CR185. Intended to make the forest more accessible, the path is regularly mowed and marked with wooden posts, allowing walkers to enjoy a safe route along the main road.

COMMUNICATION CONNECTS

Vicky Seibert-Jungbluth • Head of Public Relations

Communication goes beyond simply sharing information; it is fundamentally about uniting and connecting people. Within the commune, the Public Relations department works to maintain an open and direct dialogue with citizens. Their primary goal is to keep residents informed about ongoing projects, key decisions made by the communal council, and upcoming events — a task that is often more challenging than it appears. “Public communication requires constant reflection and creativity to effectively reach as many people as possible. In a constantly evolving world, we must regularly adapt our approach to communication as a commune”, explains Vicky Seibert-Jungbluth, head of the Public Relations department.

Whether through digital or print formats, short videos or longer features, the diverse range of communication tools is a real advantage for the Public Relations department in its daily work, as Vicky Seibert-Jungbluth emphasizes: “The advantage is that one medium doesn’t replace another; quite the opposite. We aim to leverage the strengths of each one.” For example, the communal bulletin was redesigned over the summer and now features its new look for the 2025/2026 term. “As the saying goes, it’s best to stop when things are at their peak. That’s exactly what we’ve done. Our previous design served us well through 29 wonderful editions over six years. Over the past few months, we’ve dedicated significant time, effort, and energy into this redesign to bring you a more modern, more personal, and above all, more accessible communal bulletin.”

“Our goal is to keep reducing paper usage by providing an even more efficient digital version”

The communal bulletin has been available for several years in both paper and digital formats. The PDF format, which is appreciated for its ease of use, has been maintained in the redesign, with several new features added. To make reading easier, three distinct digital versions will now be published: one in Luxembourgish, one in French, and one in English. We have chosen not to combine these languages into a single online version in order to maintain a smooth reading experience. Additionally, the font size has been adjusted to improve readability on smaller screens. The new design places greater emphasis on QR codes and hyperlinks, which showcase presentations, photo galleries from events, and video replays of communal council meetings. "We hope these improvements will provide a better reading experience, allowing more and more residents to prefer the digital bulletin and, as a result, save even more paper in the future."

"Faces of the community is a project that holds special meaning for me"

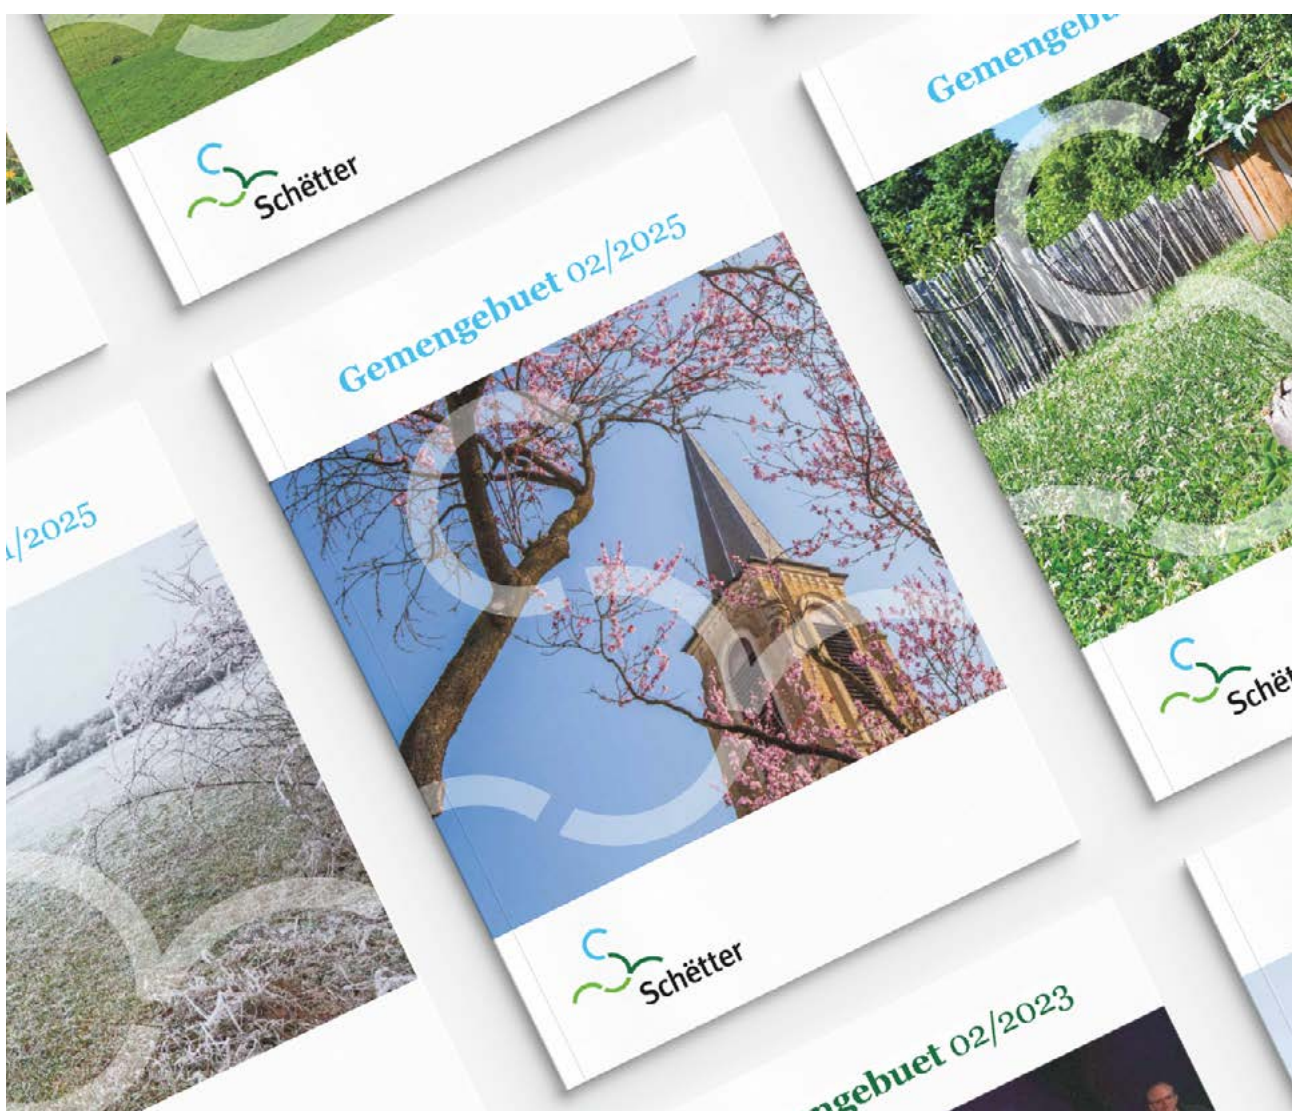

Would you like to be featured in the communal bulletin?

Feel free to contact the Public Relations department at relations.publiques@schuttrange.lu. We look forward to hearing and sharing your story!

The idea of being “close to the residents” takes on a whole new meaning in the new communal bulletin. “Writing has always brought me great joy, and my passion for people and their stories motivated me to introduce a new chapter”, explains Vicky Seibert-Jungbluth. Faces of the community shares personal stories from local residents, enriching experiences from association members, and offers a unique glimpse into the everyday lives of communal staff. Through short, authentic portraits, this project highlights the voices of those who help shape our commune: a place where people come together, support each other, and actively engage in community life.

A LIFE DEVOTED TO ART

Mario Vandivinit • Passionate artist

Some people express with a brush what others need words for. For Mario Vandivinit from Schrassig, art has been a form of communication since childhood — a language he didn't need to learn, but one that came naturally. Early on, he discovered that he could use colours and shapes to express what was on his mind: impressions too fleeting to hold onto, or emotions too complex to put into words.

“I’ve always seen art as my hobby”

Even as a primary school child, Mario enjoyed carving and drawing — Mickey Mouse, cowboys, and Indians. His teacher would hang his work next to the blackboard, and at the Club des Jeunes, he covered the walls with his pencil drawings.

“In a way, I was already being encouraged back then”, Mario recalls. What started as a hobby later took on a professional dimension. He spent three years studying at the renowned École ABC in Paris and later worked as an art teacher in both secondary school and vocational education. Now retired, he can once again devote himself fully to his greatest passions. Like Goethe’s Faust, one might say that two souls dwell in his chest: alongside his art, Mario also loves making music — he plays the piano and guitar and used to play bass as well.

Gallery success – from Luxembourg to Paris

Mario Vandivinit's first major exhibition took place at Galerie Becker in Luxembourg City, featuring his watercolour paintings. "That was a big success", he says proudly. From that moment on, everything changed: "I no longer had to worry about finding a place to exhibit. Once you've shown your work in a gallery in the city, things start to flow." This breakthrough marked the beginning of a long series of exhibitions — one to two per year, including shows abroad in Metz and Paris. He can't say exactly how many paintings he has created over the years, but he has photographed around 700 to 800 of them.

"I'm surprised myself", he says with a smile. "I've always been hardworking."

"I don't like to get bored"

One of the main themes in his artwork is landscapes. For him, it is not just about the places themselves — it is about the atmosphere they convey. Each country, each region has its own charm, its own colours and rhythms — and he tries to capture these in his paintings. "I like to travel, and I travel a lot", he says. "For example, when I'm in the Mediterranean region, it inspires me." When he first started with watercolour paintings, his homeland was at the heart of his work. His early pieces showed views of the city of Luxembourg and various regions in the country. In particular, the landscape around Schuttrange occupied him intensively for some time. One of his best-known paintings still hangs in the communal council meeting room. His favourite subject has always been the Syr — a river whose dynamics and rich variety of colours offer a multifaceted motif. Besides landscapes, Mario has also explored the human figure.

"At first, I mostly painted portraits", he recalls. It was important to him not to depict people exactly as they are, but as part of a figurative composition. Today, his work has become more abstract — but even that can change again.

"It keeps changing", says the artist from Schrassig. "Thank God. Because I don't like to get bored." For over 15 years, Mario Vandivinit has also been active as a sculptor, creating works of all sizes, including the well-known figures at the roundabout in Munsbach.

"Today, anyone who wants to start painting has to hang in there"

Mario Vandivinit has witnessed firsthand the remarkable changes in Luxembourg's art scene over the past decades. "When I began, there were only a handful of galleries in the whole country", he recalls. "Now, the art world is incredibly dynamic." With this growing diversity, competition has also intensified — a reality Mario knows well after nearly half a century of exhibitions. "There used to be three or four galleries; now the city is full of them." But does that mean all the new painters are reaching a high artistic level? That is a matter of personal judgment. "Every human being is an artist", Joseph Beuys said in a 1984 interview with Der Spiegel — a phrase that leaves room for interpretation. "Some take it a bit too literally", Mario jokes. At the end of the day, art is always a matter of taste.

And how does Mario respond to criticism? "You have to be able to take it", he replies calmly. Years of experience have given him a thick skin. "I really can't complain."

"Without art, it wouldn't work"

Has Mario Vandivinit ever felt fed up with painting or imagined putting down the brush for good? He doesn't hesitate to answer: "Never. Without painting, it wouldn't work. And without music either." Boredom isn't something the retired artist from Schrassig struggles with. On the contrary, his next major exhibition is already in the works. At the Fondation Valentiny, he will present his latest works alongside other artists — another chapter in a long and ongoing artistic journey.

A FLAME BURNING BRIGHT SINCE 1973

Alain Grohmann • President of the Firefighters' Association of Munsbach-Schuttrange

In Schuttrange, the name Alain Grohmann is inseparable from the story of the local fire brigade. For more than fifty years, he has served with dedication—a life-long commitment that began in childhood. “There were three boys and two girls in our family. My father was a firefighter, so it was only natural that his sons would follow in his footsteps. And believe me, we always had to be the first ones on site!”, he recalls with a smile. What began as a family tradition soon became a personal calling. Over the decades, Alain’s role within the fire service steadily evolved — from volunteer firefighter to commander, and for nearly eight years now, president of the Firefighters’ Association of Munsbach-Schuttrange.

Two brigades, one story

Back in 1900–1901, two separate fire brigades were founded — one in Schuttrange, the other in Munsbach. Local stories suggest the split wasn’t born of logistics, but of a personal disagreement between two brothers-in-law. Each decided to start his own brigade, setting the stage for a century of parallel service. It wasn’t until 1993 that the two units officially joined forces, marking a meaningful and symbolic chapter in the commune’s history. Since then, the firefighters have proudly served under a unified name: the

“We are one big firefighting family”

That same year, the Amicale was founded — far more than just a club, explains Alain Grohmann, now a retired welder. With around fifty active members, the Amicale is built on commitment and camaraderie. Its main mission is to support young firefighters and those in active service — whether it's organizing a barbecue, holiday or a day trip, depending on the social aspect. These shared moments help strengthen the bonds within the team.

But this sense of family goes far beyond borders. The camaraderie stretches well outside Luxembourg, points out Alain, who himself has taken part in two firefighter olympiads in traditional competitions.

One particularly close friendship has grown over the years with the fire brigade in Düppenweiler. "It's a constant exchange", he says. "They visit us, we visit them, two to three times a year. Every time, it's a real pleasure. This bond has lasted for more than 25 years."

Like many associations, the Amicale faces the challenge of attracting new members who are willing to get involved. Being part of it isn't just about having your name on a list — it means showing up and lending a hand. "It's getting harder to inspire young people. It's a shame — you can feel something is slipping away", Alain admits. But he's not ready to give up: "As long as we're here, we'll keep going."

The memories that stay

After many years serving as a firefighter, he's witnessed countless unforgettable moments — road accidents, fires, fallen trees blocking roads, birds trapped in chimneys — and of course, cats in tricky situations. One memory still brings a smile to his face: "We were called to Schuttrange for a cat stuck on a roof. When we arrived and set up the ladder... the cat simply climbed down on its own."

But beyond these light-hearted calls are those that leave a lasting mark. The firefighters of Munsbach-Schuttrange have responded to several tragedies, including the 2002 plane crash in Niederaanven, where twenty people lost their lives. Those images stay with the rescuers forever.

Alain also recalls a particularly heartbreaking moment on the motorway near Senningerberg: "A pregnant woman was involved in a crash in 2012 or 2013. Tragically, neither she nor her baby survived."

These experiences are a powerful reminder of the emotional resilience it takes to be a firefighter. To keep going, to stay strong, and to always be ready — because people count on them, no matter what.

Celebrating 125 years of firefighting in Munsbach-Schuttrange

The Munsbach-Schuttrange Fire Brigade marked its 125th anniversary with a festive celebration that brought together past and present members, friends, and fellow firefighters from across Luxembourg and beyond. Organized by the Amicale, the event was the perfect moment to celebrate, share memories and showcase the evolution of firefighting over the decades.

Held in late July on the “an der Däält” campus, the gathering featured an impressive display of vintage firefighting equipment, historical memorabilia and classic vehicles. One truck stood out in particular: “Our very first — a Mercedes 911. It could carry 2,400 liters of water and 100 liters of foam. We used it for nearly 25 years. It’s tied to so many memories. We modified it several times to meet our needs. It was a beautiful vehicle.”

The celebration also served as a moment to honour the dedication of long-serving members. Honorary medals were awarded in recognition of their commitment. Claude Marson received the silver medal for international friendship, and Alain Grohmann was awarded the bronze. “I was truly surprised — I didn’t expect it at all”, said Alain, president of the Amicale.

“It is essential to keep a fire extinguisher within reach”

As part of the event, visitors had the chance to get their fire extinguishers checked — a yearly initiative revived by the Amicale. It’s a great way to remind everyone just how important it is to have a working extinguisher at home. In an emergency, every second counts.

When asked whether the fire brigade has ever had to step in during one of the Amicale’s events because of a fire, Alain smiles and shakes his head: never. So far, he’s always managed to keep things under control. "At the Christmas market, we cook mushrooms with pan-fried potatoes every year", he says with a wink. "I was downstairs in the fire station kitchen, busy cooking. There's a smoke detector in there — which I'd completely forgotten about. Of course, when you're cooking, there's steam. The extractor fan couldn't handle it — we've since replaced it — and the alarm went off. Luckily, I knew how to shut the system down."

A bit of steam, a triggered alarm, but no fire — Alain handled it like a pro, both as a firefighter and a chef!

OPEN AIR CINEMA

On June 7, 2025, the Youth Commission hosted its second edition of the open-air cinema. It was a great opportunity to enjoy a friendly movie night with family or friends on the "an der Däält" campus. The program featured two Luxembourgish productions: "D'Schatzritter an d'Geheimnis vum Melusina" and "Superhemp Retörns". The event was organized as a "Green Event", emphasizing sustainability. This included, for example, no disposable tableware or plastic, and a focus on offering local and organic food and drinks.

FÊTE DE LA MUSIQUE

The "Fête de la Musique" once again created a fantastic atmosphere across various locations in the commune this year. The event kicked off on June 14, 2025, with a fun concert by the "Schëtter Jongbléiser" at the Schuttrange market. The program then featured a piano audition by the UGDA, followed by performances by "Hands on Mars" and "Destiny Flexboy." The second part of the "Fête de la Musique" took place on June 17 at the church in Schuttrange, where the string quartet "Papillon" delighted the audience.

A huge thank you to the Culture Commission and everyone involved in making this event a success.

SCHUTTRANGE MARKET

On June 14, 2025, the Schuttrange market was filled with musical atmosphere. As visitors wandered through the market, the “Schëtter Jongbléiser”, led by Romain Kerschen, performed a charming concert aperitif.

In addition, a wide selection of fresh, regional and homemade products was offered.

NUIT DU SPORT 2025

On Saturday, June 14, 2025, the “an der Däält” campus was once again dedicated to sports. As in previous years, the “Nuit du Sport” was organized by the commune of Schuttrange, alongside local clubs, and with the support of the Sports and Leisure Commission and the Family Commission. The goal was to offer both young and old the chance to discover new sports and enjoy physical activities while promoting a healthy lifestyle. Over 200 visitors attended this edition and had the opportunity to explore a wide range of sports – from archery and cricket to Muay Thai and dancing. This year’s program included no less than 16 different sports.

A big thank you to all the clubs, organizers, and the many volunteers who made this event possible!

35 YEARS OF TOWN TWINNING

This year marks the 35th anniversary of the town twinning with our German partner commune Siegelsbach. To celebrate this occasion and deepen the ties between our two communes, a workshop was held in Schuttrange on June 22, 2025. The goal was to get to know each other better, strengthen the partnership, and collaboratively set priorities for an even more dynamic future cooperation.

Politicians, members of commissions and associations, as well as representatives from the educational sector, discussed concrete ways to enhance collaboration—especially in communication, youth engagement, and exchange programs. Key proposals included simplifying student exchanges, improving regular communication about news and events in the partner commune, providing mutual support during local celebrations, and sustaining and deepening the interpersonal relationships developed over the years.

After a constructive workshop, a guided tour of the commune of Schuttrange was organized. It began with the inauguration of the LUGA in the rose garden of Munsbach Castle, where in 2015 the “Rose of Friendship” was planted to honor the twinning of the communes. Another highlight was the visit to the “Native Village” in Neuhaeusgen — a site that authentically showcases Celtic culture and lifestyle, primarily for educational purposes. The group then moved on to rue de Siegelsbach to explore the community and family garden “De klenge Kéiseker”, followed by a visit to the local poultry breeding facility. Our guests gained valuable insight into the work of this association, which is committed to the welfare of small animals and plays a significant role in the community’s social life. This facility serves as an important meeting point for residents and actively encourages intergenerational exchange. Finally, several major infrastructure projects essential to the commune’s development were presented, including the “an der Dällt” campus, which is set to undergo significant expansion, as well as several sustainable housing projects located on rue des Jardins, rue de la Montage and Schlossgewan.

The following day, the National Holiday festivities provided a perfect finale to this enriching experience, bringing together our guests from Siegelsbach and the residents of our commune. The friendly atmosphere and fruitful exchanges highlighted the importance of the European spirit, demonstrating that borders connect us rather than divide us. Together, we can accomplish great things!

NATIONAL HOLIDAY

This year's National Holiday celebrations offered a wonderful opportunity for our residents to connect, enjoy culinary specialties from around the world and come together in a warm and friendly atmosphere.

The Grand Ducal family has played a vital role in defending Luxembourg's independence during its darkest hours. As a sign of deep gratitude and national pride, the birthday of the Grand Duke is celebrated every year on June 23rd — this year, however, for the last time with Grand Duke Henri on the throne. His son, Hereditary Grand Duke Guillaume, will ascend to the throne on October 3rd, 2025, and will no doubt lead our country with the same passion and dedication.

As in previous years, the Te Deum at the Schuttrange church and the ceremonial procession to the "an der Däilt" campus were part of the official program. In his speech, mayor Claude Marson reflected on current political challenges and highlighted the importance of the European ideal — standing united rather than divided, both here in Luxembourg and across Europe. He also took the opportunity to thank the guests from our partner commune Siegelbach for their cooperation and mutual trust. This year marks 35 years of town twinning — a significant anniversary that aims to further deepen the friendly relations between the two communes. The mayor also addressed key local and global issues: the lack of affordable housing, the rising risk of poverty, equal opportunities, and climate change — challenges the commune will continue to tackle with the highest priority in the future.

A cherished tradition of the National Holiday celebrations is the honoring of dedicated members of local clubs and associations. On behalf of the commune, the mayor awarded medals and pins to committed musicians and firefighters, symbolically recognizing their invaluable contributions to our community. These moments were accompanied by musical performances from the "Schëtter Musek" and the "Schëtter Gesank". A special tribute was given at the end to Jean-Pierre Kauffmann, who retired from the Schuttrange communal council after 43 years of service and has now entered a well-deserved political retirement.

A big thank you to everyone who took part in this wonderful day and helps make Schuttrange a commune where everyone is welcome and where all have equal opportunities and prospects.

DIPLOMA CEREMONY

On July 1, 2025, the college of mayor and aldermen organized the official diploma ceremony for the Luxembourgish language courses. For the academic year 2024/2025, 52 individuals had enrolled in the courses taught by Pierrette Engel-Wolff and Sylvie Bies-Rock. During this ceremony, 52 people were awarded their diplomas, which they earned through their diligence and a presence rate exceeding 70%. The college of mayor and aldermen also took the opportunity to warmly thank the two instructors for their dedication. The Luxembourgish language plays an essential role in integration, and through their involvement, Mrs. Engel-Wolff and Mrs. Bies-Rock actively contribute to promoting harmonious intercultural coexistence within our commune.

CHEQUES HANDOVER

“Schëtter Kulinaria” was once again a great success this year – thanks to the many dedicated volunteers who put their heart and time into preparing their culinary specialities. With 14 food stands, visitors were taken on a true culinary journey around the globe, offering something to delight every palate. All proceeds collected during the National Holiday celebrations were donated entirely to charitable causes. Thanks to the dedication of our residents, cheques of €1,525 each were handed over on 16 July 2025 to the following associations, nominated by the participating culinary groups:

- “Schëtter Hëllef” is a group of volunteers dedicated to supporting people in need. Currently, they are assisting Ukrainian refugees on various levels — providing materials, information, and administrative support.

- “ELA Luxembourg” is committed to raising awareness about the rare disease leukodystrophy, supporting research in this field, and helping affected families.

- “Darkness Into Light Luxembourg” is part of a global movement dedicated to raising awareness about suicide and self-harm, while offering support to individuals facing their darkest moments.

- “Luxembourg Allergy Network” is a patient organization that raises awareness about allergic conditions and supports affected individuals by promoting understanding and encouraging their inclusion in the workplace.
- “AryaLux (Women’s Association)” is dedicated to promoting women’s rights and improving the future opportunities of refugee women both in Luxembourg and in developing countries.

Are you interested in joining “Schëtter Kulinaria” next year to share your national or international culinary specialties?

1. URBAN PLANNING

1.1. Specific modification to the General Development Plan (PAG) of the commune of Schuttrange concerning the re-classification of several plots located in Munsbach, in the area known as “Op dem Landtausch”, into BEP Zone – Referral to the communal council and decision not to conduct an environmental assessment

- In accordance with the grand-ducal regulation of 21 May 2025 amending the modified grand-ducal regulation of 17 May 2006 declaring the land use plan “Airport and Surroundings” mandatory, there is notably a harmonisation of the applicable territorial planning instruments by excluding from the POS (land use plan) the lands simultaneously subject to zoning within the regional economic activity zone “Niederanven/Schuttrange” as defined by the PSZAE.

- As a result, the communal council unanimously decides to adopt the specific modification to the General Development Plan (PAG) of the commune of Schuttrange. This adjustment concerns several aspects:
 - Modification of the PAG perimeter following the adjustment of the land use plan “Airport and Surroundings” (POS), specifically:
 - Partial removal of areas currently classified as multi-storey public buildings and facilities zones (POS – BEP) and as rural zones (POS – RUR);
 - Partial reclassification into public buildings and facilities zone (BEP).
- Creation of an urban planning easement of the “buffer zone” [ZT] type along the western boundary of the BEP zone, with the corresponding definition integrated into the written part of the PAG;
- Identification of certain undeveloped areas as habitats for protected species, in accordance with the law on the protection of nature and natural resources;

€84,054.87 will also be refunded under the Conjunctural Equalisation Fund;

- The communal services have received several complaints from Schrässig residents regarding the regular fall of dead branches from trees along the rural path of the Bettelter forest, posing a risk to pedestrians and hikers. In this context, the commune sent a letter at the beginning of June to the owners of the various plots to draw their attention to this danger and to ask them to organise a coordinated pruning operation with the other owners. They are invited to contact the responsible nature and forest officer, Mr. Gil Jaquemoth;
- This year, the commune has not submitted a rural road maintenance programme to the Ministry of Agriculture. In consultation with the Agriculture Commission, it was decided first to repair the paths planned in the previous programme.

At the end of his introduction, the mayor takes the opportunity to thank councillor Jean-Pierre KAUFFMANN, who is attending today his last communal council meeting. Mr. KAUFFMANN can look back on a remarkable career in the service of communal politics.

1. URBAN PLANNING

1.1. Adoption of a specific development project in Neuhaeusgen, Rue de Senningen

The communal council unanimously decides to adopt the specific development project "Rue de Senningen" in Neuhaeusgen, drawn up by the engineering consultancy firm BEST s.à r.l. from Sennigerberg, on behalf of

and for the account of Mrs. Marie-Paule Bertrand-Rollinger.

The project concerns several plots registered in the cadastral register of the commune of Schuttrange, section B of Munsbach, under numbers 1480/3368, 1481/36, 1481/2, 1481/2976, 1481/3705, 1481/3706, 1481/3707, 1481/3980.

The project provides for the construction of 10 housing units, consisting of 8 single-family homes and 2 semi-detached houses, the latter intended for affordable housing. Plots 9 and 10 will be transferred free of charge to the commune of Schuttrange for their implementation.

2. COMMUNAL INFRASTRUCTURE

2.1. Approval of plans and estimates for the extension of the Roseraie in Munsbach

In order to strengthen the sociocultural and touristic role of the rose garden located in the park of Munsbach Castle, the association Lëtzebuerger Rousefrënn submitted an extension request to the commune.

After presentation of the project by the urban planning and landscape architecture firm Andrea Weier, the communal council unanimously decides to approve the plans dated 11 June 2025 as well as the estimate prepared on 17 June 2025, for a total amount of €150,000.00 including VAT.

2.2. Authorisation for the college of mayor and aldermen to take legal action in the context of an administrative appeal against a conditional authorisation issued by the ministry of the Environment, Climate, and Biodiversity regarding the construction of a pedestrian and cyclist path between the Syrdall Business Park and Munsbach Station

The commune of Schuttrange plans to build a cycle path and pedestrian path between Munsbach Station and the Syrdall Business Park, in order to facilitate mobility and improve user safety.

However, the authorization from the ministry of the Environment, Climate, and Biodiversity imposes the condition that work can only begin if a monitoring report proves that the compensatory ecological measures implemented are effective, and this report must be validated by the ministry before the work can commence.

Despite several approaches, including appointment requests and an informal appeal, the commune has received no satisfactory response from the ministry. A new ministerial decision attempted to rephrase the condition, but without changing its substance or making its application easier.

Faced with this situation, which delays an important project for the commune and its residents, the communal council unanimously decides to authorize the college of mayor and aldermen to initiate legal proceedings before the administrative courts.

3. COMMUNAL FINANCES

3.1. Approval of the management account for the 2023 financial year

Following the report of the verification of the receiver's cash register and the comments made by the department responsible for communal accounting control dated 12 May 2025, and after taking note of the explanations provided by the communal receiver in his statement dated 25 May 2025, the communal council unanimously decides to approve the management account for the 2023 financial year.

3.2. Approval of the administrative account for the 2023 financial year

Following the report of the verification of the administrative account for the 2023 financial year and the comments made by the department responsible for communal accounting control dated 12 May 2025, and after taking note of the explanations provided by the college of mayor and aldermen in its statement dated 26 May 2025, the communal council unanimously decides to approve the administrative account for the 2023 financial year:

3.3. Creation of a new budget item for the works related to the extension of the Roseraie in Munsbach

In order to carry out the project voted by the communal council under item 2.1 of the present session, it is necessary to create a corresponding budget item.

The communal council thus unanimously decides to approve the inclusion in the 2025 extraordinary budget of a new item 4/430/221200/25012 entitled "Extension of the Roseraie in the Park of Munsbach Castle", with a credit of €150,000.00.

3.4. Approval of a donation on the occasion of the 50th anniversary of the National Council of Women of Luxembourg

The National Council of Women of Luxembourg (CNFL) is an organization that has been working for many years to promote gender equality and defend women's rights in Luxembourg.

As part of its 50th anniversary, the CNFL plans to organize an exhibition showcasing its main achievements over the decades, alongside major advances in women's rights, as well as producing a series of videos documenting the historical commitment of its 13 member associations.

Therefore, the college of mayor and aldermen wishes to express its support and recognition for the essential work carried out by the CNFL in favor of gender equality in Luxembourg.

5.6. Approval of a free-use agreement concerning land located in Munsbach, locality “Auf der Bissem”

The mayor then proceeds to swear in Mrs. Conny NEY, the new member of the communal council from the DP political party. 1. POLITICAL AFFAIRS

1.1. Approval of the order of precedence of the communal council

The order of precedence determines the sequence in which councillors replace, where applicable, the mayor and the aldermen. Following recent changes within the communal council, a new order of precedence is therefore established and adopted unanimously by the communal council, in accordance with Article 11 of the amended Communal Law of 13 December 1988.

1.2. Approval of the allocation of the supplement for political leave

The communal council unanimously decides to set, as from 1 August 2025, the allocation of the supplement for political leave among the members of the communal council, this adjustment being necessary due to recent changes within the council.

1.3. Appointment of a new member to the communal commission for intercultural living together

Following the resignation of Mr. Jean-Pierre Kauffmann from his mandate as a member of the communal council, a seat became vacant on the communal commission for intercultural living together.

In accordance with the legislation in force*, which stipulates that members of communal commissions are appointed by the communal council, must reside or work within the territory of the commune, and that at least one representative of the communal council must be a member, the communal council unanimously decides to appoint Mrs. Conny Ney as a new member of the communal commission for intercultural living together.

2.1. Approval of the estimate for the refurbishment of the Boumillen reservoir in Schrassig

The communal council unanimously approves the technical note and detailed estimate dated 27 June 2025, prepared by the engineering consultancy BEST of Senningerberg, for the refurbishment of the Boumillen reservoir in Schrassig, for a total amount of €386,100.00 including VAT.

These works, such as the rehabilitation of the water chamber and the renewal of the electrical installations, are necessary to ensure the long-term supply of drinking water to the commune of Schuttrange.

2.2. Approval of the plans and estimates concerning the extension of the primary school and Maison Relais Cycle 1 – “an der Dällt” school campus

With the population growth in our commune, the number of pupils in fundamental education is also constantly increasing. In order to meet the needs of future generations, the “an der Dällt” school campus is undergoing a major extension project.

The extension work will be carried out in several phases, with the safety of children and teaching staff always guaranteed. In its first phase, the project provides for the construction of a new building housing the fundamental school and the Maison Relais for Cycle 1, in order to offer a modern space suited to the needs of the children.

The communal council therefore unanimously approves the plans and estimates relating to the updated Masterplan for the development of the “an der Dällt” school campus.

The project is managed by Schroeder & Associés engineering consultancy, in cooperation with the architects of Coeba, responsible for the plans and architectural design. The works are scheduled to start in early 2026, with the opening of the new facilities planned for the 2029/2030 school year.

The estimated budget for this first phase amounts to approximately €27.4 million. This project represents a major investment for the commune, which seeks to guarantee a high-quality educational environment that fosters the development and success of pupils from their earliest years.

Details of the project can be consulted here.

2.3. Approval of the plans and estimates concerning the “En neien Duerfkär fir Schëtter” project

Another flagship project of the commune concerns the redevelopment of the centre of Schuttrange. Entitled “En neien Duerfkär fir Schëtter”, this project is the result of a public participatory consultation launched in April 2021 to gather residents' views and suggestions on the future development of the village centre.

Three finalist projects, pre-selected by a jury, were submitted to the public. One of them, designed by Metaform Architects, was designated the winner of the competition.

The first phase of the project includes, in addition to the creation of new premises for the Scouts and the Youth Club, the demolition of the former communal house, as well as the renovation and redevelopment of the old school and presbytery. These changes will be accompanied by the construction of a modern extension to the communal house. This project constitutes a structural investment for the commune, aiming to modernise communal infrastructure, meet the growing needs of communal services, and strengthen community life.

The works are scheduled to begin in September 2026, with completion estimated for mid-2030.

The communal council decides, with 8 votes in favour (DP, LSAP and DEI GRENG) and 3 abstentions (SCHËTTER BIERGER), to approve the plans and estimates concerning the “En neien Duerfkär fir Schëtter” project.

The total estimated cost for this phase amounts to 29,8 € million, divided between the communal house (€16.5 million), the Scouts' chalet (€9.1 million) and the Youth Club (€1,3 million).

Details of the project can be consulted here.

3. COMMUNAL FINANCES

3.1. Presentation of the updated Multiannual Financing Plan 2025-2030

The members of the communal council take note of the updated Multiannual Financing Plan for the period 2025 to 2030, which provides a comprehensive overview of commitments and financial means.

Thanks to a budgetary policy and management of public funds carried out responsibly, this financing plan shows that the commune will have the necessary financial resources to carry out major projects planned, notably the “Neien Duerfkär Schëtter” and new school infrastructures.

3.2. Approval of the revenue titles for the 2024 fiscal year

Revenue declarations must be approved by the communal council, except those based on decisions already taken by the communal council.

Therefore, the communal council unanimous-

Trouvez la solution de charge pour votre résidence grâce au comparateur de bornes et de systèmes de gestion

Avec l'essor des véhicules électriques, la question de la gestion de la charge devient centrale, en particulier dans les résidences où la puissance est limitée. Comment permettre à plusieurs utilisateurs de charger leur véhicule sans surcharger l'installation électrique ? Comment répartir les coûts ? Pour accompagner cette évolution, Klima-Agence propose une plateforme en ligne permettant de comparer les bornes de charge et les systèmes de gestion disponibles au Luxembourg.

Des solutions adaptées aux besoins des copropriétés

Le comparateur en ligne bornes.klima-agence.lu permet de repérer facilement les solutions compatibles avec un usage collectif. Les utilisateurs peuvent cibler les systèmes répondant aux spécificités d'une copropriété.

Les systèmes de gestion sont au cœur de cette approche.

- La gestion de la charge permet une répartition intelligente de la charge entre plusieurs points de charge afin d'éviter une surcharge du réseau électrique.
- La gestion de la facturation est essentielle pour répartir les coûts entre les résidents.
- La gestion énergétique permet une meilleure utilisation de l'énergie, y compris celle produite par votre installation photovoltaïque.

Une compatibilité facilitée entre bornes et systèmes

L'outil met également en avant la compatibilité entre bornes de charge et systèmes de gestion, un critère essentiel pour identifier les solutions les plus ouvertes et évolutives et faciliter ainsi d'éventuelles extensions.

Grâce aux filtres, vous pouvez optimiser votre recherche selon des critères tels que le profil utilisateur, le type de bâtiment, la puissance ou les fonctionnalités permettant notamment de gérer la charge et d'éviter des pics de consommation, ce qui est particulièrement utile dans le contexte de la nouvelle structure tarifaire de l'électricité.
